Outcome Based Education is an approach to education in which decision about curriculum are driven by the exit learning outcomes that the students should display at the end of the course. The Industrial and societal demands play an important role in formulating the learning outcomes of the programme offered by the Higher Educational Institutions. Framework at SKASC At Sri Krishna Arts and Science College, the framework of OBE was through this process: The formulation of PEOs, for each programme was based on the Vision, Mission, Philosophy and Objective of SKASC. The PEOs were designed to address the requirements and expectations of various stakeholders of SKASC. The PEOs described the expected accomplishments of graduates after Five years of graduation. The achievement of PEOs will directly ensure the achievement of the Vision, and Mission of the SKASC and the faculty as well as the requirements of the stakeholders. The formulation of PLO was in line with the graduate attributes of the students in relation to the academic programme. The Graduate attributes determined are in line with the Domains of Learning of Blooms Taxonomy. Following attributes are reflected in the Programme learning Outcomes in line with the domains of learning. Knowledge (Cognitive) Critical Thinking skills (Cognitive) Practical Skills (Psychomotor) Teamwork skills (Affective) Communication skills (Affective) Digital skills (Affective) Numeracy (Cognitive) Lifelong long learning (Affective) Entrepreneurial (Affective) Ethics and Professionalism (Affective) SKASC follows unique practices in the development of its learning domains reflecting three learning domains of Blooms Taxonomy. Cognitive, Psychomotor and Affective. In line with the NEP 2020, SKASC developed OBE not only focussing on the Cognitive capacities but focusing on "Foundational Capacities " of Literacy and numeracy, "Higher order" Cognitive Capacities such as Critical Thinking and Problem solving and Social, Ethical and Emotional Capacities and dispositions. The Learning domains reflected in the Course learning statements are constructively aligned with the Teaching methodologies and Assessment strategies The development of these strategies is reflected in the Curriculum and the Lesson plan. These assessments are evaluated and the attainments are calculated and reflected in the Assessments report. The CLO-PLO attainments are then evaluated and the Gap Analysis reports are generated for further Improvement practices. Once the Assessments are evaluated, a module monitoring report is generated and submitted for the Continuous Quality Improvement at the end of every semester. This progress is maintained and evaluated through SPIDER web Chart, to track the progress of outcomes and attainments. SKASC evaluates the progress of students through a Skill card reflecting all three domains of learning after the completion of their semester.

20.Distance education/online education:

The pandemic dispensed a series of challenges to the educational institutions in the teaching learning process especially in the higher education. In order to meet these Challenges, the college has adopted blended learning teaching integrating online learning tools with class room learning. The language subjects are offered as blended learning methodology where the students can learn through online and offline. In order to complete the assessment methodology, a learner has to complete the online certification from the Coursera through a foreign University. This adoption has blended into the curriculum as one of the assignment components for the students, to encourage independent learning and blended learning methodology. Mykclassroom is an online LMS portal which acts as the library for students to improve their knowledge in the respective field. For every course the faculty opens a mykclassroom and post many materials relating to the topic which are already available as a free-ware in the net. The student can utilize the platform anytime with 24/7 access. The portal also includes e-books, e-articles and other e-related content. The portal mainly uses YouTube as the material for the study which has a predicting ability. Once a student enters into the YouTube portal, the YouTube self predicts the development of the topic by suggesting twelve more topics. Likewise, every topic is expanded further and it is developed by 1:12 ratio. links that is shared in Mykclassroom will also do self-prediction and each word and the associated links would enable the student to get in-depth knowledge

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme Outcomes and Course Outcomes as evaluated by the institution

The major components of (OBE) are Course Outcome(CO), Program Outcome(PO), and Program Educational Objective (PEO). The attainment is measured and evaluated by faculty members, HoD, and Internal members of BoS and Academic Council. The external members of BoS, Academic Council and Governing Body examine thePOs and COs and give recommendations for further improvement. Rubrics are used in the evaluation process to measure the level of attainment of performance. The threshold value is the minimum pass percentage of a course.

- Calculating Course Outcome

- The question papers are prepared based on CO's weightage
- Individual Students Question-wise marks are entered in ERP Software
- The course is designed with 4 to 5 CO's mapped with capstone matrix
- Rubrics are followed with a threshold value for calculating CO level
- The marks obtained by the students for each CO in an exam (CIA & ESE) is taken up based on the weightage allocated (max mark CO wise) for the COs in the exam. The level of CO attainment is based on the percentage of students above the threshold
- Final CO attainment and CO PO attainment for the Course is calculated and displayed in the Statistical chart
- Final PO attainment= 80% of Direct attainment + 20% Indirect attainment

GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

6.1 - Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 - The governance of the institution is reflective of an effective leadership in tune with the vision and mission of the Institution

The College's governance is meticulously organized and aligned with the institution's overarching vision, "FITNESS FOR PURPOSE." This alignment is achieved by preparing students for placements, both within and outside the coursework, bolstering research endeavors, fostering consultancy and extension services, and cultivating a brand equity and image through activities guided by the motto "Knowledge, Love, and Service."

The perspective plan of the college outlines the strategic formulation and deployment processes aimed at realizing the institution's vision and mission.

The Institution provides due recognition and representation to the faculty by following participative management of employees at all levels of governance structure. Decentralization is facilitated through the delegation of powers to various committees. Faculty members play a decisive role in IQAC, Board of Studies, financial planning and events scheduling, strategic planning, curriculum enrichment and teaching-learning process, department proceedings, collaborative activities, research and innovation, student support systems, extension and community development. Staff members form various statutory bodies instituted by the college such as curriculum development committee, internal complaints committee, grievance committee and extra-curricular activity committee.

The Institution ensures that the teaching faculty is empowered with academic and administrative skills for independent functioning, by allowing them to pick FDP's to attend.

6.1.2 - Effective leadership is reflected in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management

SKASC employs a unique organizational structure that prioritizes a leadership style promoting decentralization to achieve its strategic goals. The above hierarchy enables the institution to have an effective leadership resulting in decentralization of decision making fostering a collaborative and participative management style. This further empowers individuals at all levels to contribute to the institution's academic and administrative functions.

The institution promotes participative management to engage stakeholders in the decision-making process. Students actively contribute through participation in student council (conducted every month), class committee meetings, hostel committee meetings, and other associations. - Calculating Course Outcome

- The question papers are prepared based on CO's weightage
- Individual Students Question-wise marks are entered in ERP Software
- The course is designed with 4 to 5 CO's mapped with capstone matrix
- Rubrics are followed with a threshold value for calculating CO level
- The marks obtained by the students for each CO in an exam (CIA & ESE) is taken up based on the weightage allocated (max mark CO wise) for the COs in the exam. The level of CO attainment is based on the percentage of students above the threshold
- Final CO attainment and CO PO attainment for the Course is calculated and displayed in the Statistical chart
- Final PO attainment= 80% of Direct attainment + 20% Indirect attainment

GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

6.1 - Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 - The governance of the institution is reflective of an effective leadership in tune with the vision and mission of the Institution

the motto "Knowledge, Love, and Service."

The perspective plan of the college outlines the strategic formulation and deployment processes aimed at realizing the institution's vision and mission.

The Institution provides due recognition and representation to the faculty by following participative management of employees at all levels of governance structure. Decentralization is facilitated through the delegation of powers to various committees. Faculty members play a decisive role in IQAC, Board of Studies, financial planning and events scheduling, strategic planning, curriculum enrichment and teaching-learning process, department proceedings, collaborative activities, research and innovation, student support systems, extension and community development. Staff members form various statutory bodies instituted by the college such as curriculum development committee, internal complaints committee, grievance committee and extra-curricular activity committee.

The Institution ensures that the teaching faculty is empowered with academic and administrative skills for independent functioning, by allowing them to pick FDP's to attend.

6.1.2 - Effective leadership is reflected in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management

SKASC employs a unique organizational structure that prioritizes a leadership style promoting decentralization to achieve its strategic goals. Authority and responsibility are systematically delegated throughout the organizational hierarchy. This core team is responsible for policies, process and decisions governing the Institution. At the Institution level, the strategic operations and plans are led by the Principal, Deans and Heads of the Department. The team is responsible for the strategic decisions and execution through management of information disseminated by the core team of leadership. The faculty members are at operational level, who are responsible for the execution of policies. The above hierarchy enables the institution to have an effective leadership resulting in decentralization of decision making fostering a collaborative and participative management style. This further empowers individuals at all levels to contribute to the institution's academic and administrative functions.

Participative Management

The institution promotes participative management to engage stakeholders in the decision-making process. Students actively contribute through participation in student council (conducted every month), class committee meetings, hostel committee meetings, and other associations. Faculty and students alike engage in administrative functions, serving on both statutory and non-statutory committees for professional development, effective participation, and accountability. Alumni also play a role in curriculum development.

Faculty members conduct tutor ward meetings, gathering input from students, which is subsequently discussed in departmental meetings to facilitate decision-making at the management level.
